

Module 5: Teamwork

Topic 5.2: How to teach teamwork?

Introduction to the course

This course was developed within an Erasmus+ KA2 project with the title The system of support for academic teachers in the process of shaping the soft skills of their students.

The aim of the project is to develop 4 courses targeting higher education teachers as guidance for embedding soft-skills teaching into regular courses and curriculum of higher education institutions.

This course is focused on the skills of creativity, innovation, critical thinking, and teamwork. It is organized into 5 modules together bringing 75 hours of learning workload. The methods of learning are based on a mix of self-study, discussions in forums, face-to-face lectures, workshops, and online learning.

Module objectives

- To present definitions of teamwork as well as its importance for today's graduates.
- To present the situation of teaching teamwork in an educational context.
- To show several practical examples of techniques for teamwork.

About the module

In the module about Innovation, we talk about teamwork and how teamwork could be embedded into regular classes in higher education

The module is divided into 3 lessons with an online learning approach such as forums, video presentations, reading materials, and quizzes. Please follow the directions for studying available in each of the lessons.

After the three lessons, the face-to-face lecture with the workshop will be organized in which the topics of the first three lessons will be discussed in detail.
